THE TIDE END COTTAGE

Nestled beside Teddington Lock and overflowing with historic charm, our cosy pub is the perfect retreat from the hustle and bustle of the capital. It was formerly two cottages, which merged in 1820, creating the Tide End Cottage we know and love today. Well known for its role in the evacuation of British troops from Dunkirk in 1940, 100 out of the 850 "little ships" assembled at the nearby Tough's Boat Yard, and numerous crew members gathered at the pub before setting off. Many of the little ships still survive, peacefully bobbing along the Thames.
